<td>Supported Wage System</td>
<td>If a student is employed and they are unable to work at the standard expected of open employment, it might be possible that they are employed under the supported wage system. Under this scheme, wages are based on productivity, e.g., if they are capable of a productivity rate of 60% (against normal productivity rates), then that person is entitled to a pay rate of 60% of the award rate of pay. The person may also be entitled to a part disability support pension. Extensive and ongoing evaluations and reviews are undertaken initially and on an on-going basis.</td>
<td>Depending on the employment pathway taken, either the employer or the Disability Employment Service can assist. For more information of the supported wage scheme please call 1800 065 123.</td>
